8-MILE CONCRETE PAVING PROGRAM VOTED FOR 1924

IS GREATEST STREET IMPROVEMENT PROJECT IN CITY'S HISTORY.

10 YEARS TO PAY

Installment Plan Provided—Only Two Protests Are Entered.

Between seven and eight miles of one-course reinforced concrete paving will be added to Janesville this year as a result of the city council's unanimous adoption, Thursday night, of a $350,000 program for 1924, the greatest paving program in the history of the city.

The plan was approved exactly as proposed by the committee of public works and published along with a map in the Gazette of Wednesday, with one exception—the paving of Eastern avenue only as far west of Industrial avenue, and not to the quarter section line of fractional lot 4. This change eliminates about two blocks from the program.

Rebate for Corner Lots. In voting the monster project, the council did so with the understanding that property owners affected will be allowed to pay their special assessments over a 10-year period if they choose; also that owners of corner lots will be given a certain rebate. This is in accordance with the practice in the past.

The committee of public works was instructed to draw up a schedule of special assessments for the work and public hearings will be held on these before finally adopted by the council. The plan is to assess the full $3 limit.

Some of the chief streets to be paved in 1924 are Milton, Milwaukee, Garfield, Fourth, Highland and Western avenues; and North Pearl and Washington streets.

Two Protests Made. Despite the publicity given the program before the council meeting, only two protests were entered to the council Thursday night, and one of these was carried for by the elimination of two blocks from the list.

The other involved the proposed paving of Glen and Monroe streets, but no change was made in the plan after hearing the opposition.

Costs Paving. 450 Eastern avenue, object of protest, is a block long, but paving extends beyond Industrial avenue, claiming it would serve no purpose in coming to an abrupt end at the corner.

He said the people on Eastern avenue had just gotten through paying for sewer and water and a paving assessment at this time would be too much for them.

The council headed the man's plea and provided that Eastern avenue be paved in 1924 only between McKee boulevard and Industrial avenue.

Newton Pears Poverty. Charles Newton, 927 Glen street, declared the council would "make a traitor out of me" if he, Glen and Monroe streets were ordered paved, and said he had talked with people

LIEUT. WOOD'S STOCK DEALS IN CHICAGO

Chicago—The bulk of Lieut. Osborne C. Wood's stock market operations were with reputable Chicago houses and not in the hands of a single man, according to Frank H. Boyer, vice president and general manager of Bishop's Service, Inc., who said in investigation of Lieut. Wood's trading in Louisiana.

Nothing suggestive of any irregularity had been found, Mr. Boyer said. He declared, however, that the statement of Lieut. Wood, who is an aid to his father, Governor General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, that he never possessed more than $100,000 or $200,000, is somewhat contrary to other definite impressions existing in certain quarters in Chicago.

January—The Month of Sales. This issue of the Gazette contains a number of bargains that have not been reported elsewhere. On the classified page there are values in clothing that will make your eyes pop right out, and decide for you that now is the time to travel for few miles in order to save the dollars. An Elkhorst merchant is advertising clothing for men, women and children at very special prices.

In spite of the cold weather and snow, cars are still moving rapidly and an out of town dealer and a local used car man are advertising bargains that cannot be equaled in value, quality and mechanical condition.

Remember the Gazette classified page; it has become an indispensable institution and our advertisers tell us every day of the value of the classified page they receive through the use of want ads.

If you have a want, you want a want ad. Tell more and sell more.

Call 2500 Mary Brown will be glad to give you any information regarding your ad. There are many markets as there are people, so the want ad way is not a gamble.

If you have a phone your credit is good.

FLOOD DISASTER FEARED BY PARIS AS SEINE RISES

PLIGHT OF SUBURBS IS DESPERATE; PLAN FLIGHT.

SAILORS RESCUE Thousands Out of Employment; Marne Valley Also Is Scene of Torrent.

Paris—The height of the Seine flood at the Pont Royal at 9 o'clock this morning was 7.70 meters, (25.26 feet) as compared with 7.48 meters at 9 a. m. yesterday, showing that in 24 hours the waters had risen 8.66 inches. The rise during the previous 24 hours was 25.7 inches.

The weather forecasters predicted mild but persistent rain throughout the day, and a repetition of the disaster of 1910 seemed probable unless there was a drastic change of temperature before night.

Suburbs Hard Hit. The situation in Paris had not changed materially at daybreak, for the slowly rising waters had claimed the plight of the suburbs was desperate and they were making plans to evacuate the district. Eighty more blueprints with 20 boats have been summoned from Paris to assist in the rescue work.

Marne on Rampage. One of the serious consequences of the flood is the fact that thousands of workers have been thrown out of employment.

The river Marne is still rising and the Grand Marais, which extends that stream near Meaux, is out on a rampage again last night.

In certain parts of the Marne valley the waters have flooded an area more than a mile wide.

Refuses Detailed Statement on Arrival in Athens; Won't Stay Long.

Albania—Former Premier Venizelos, who arrived in Athens last night, refused to make a detailed statement on his general remarks to Col. Plasilis, head of the revolutionary committee, and the several officers and newspaper men who met him. It is inferred that he does not take a pessimistic view of the internal political situation.

He said he had come back to Greece at the invitation of the leader of the revolution, that he would study the situation and that he would endeavor to help his country out of her present difficulties.

He did not intend to remain here long, he added, but would stay until he thought his presence was no longer necessary.

SIEGE OF ZERO GOLD UNBROKEN

Bus Service to Madison Resumed—Trains Hard Hit by Cold.

Zero weather again visited Janesville when the thermometer reached the thermometer of the Fourth avenue plant of the Janesville Electric company at 6 a. m. Friday. Other industries about the city recorded down to 6 below. At noon Friday it was 3 above.

The night was quiet, with hardly a breeze. A light, fine snow fell, barely noticeable, but the forecast predicted "some snow on the 4th or 5th, not to amount to much."

After being tied up since Monday on account of snow, the bus service on the Janesville-Madison bus line was resumed Thursday.

Trains are running on an average of five minutes late, due to the cold. Train No. 510 on the Northwestern from Minneapolis, due here at 8:30 a. m., got in at 9:15. The Northwestern train from Fond du Lac, due here at 10:30 a. m., arrived at 11:15. The Northwestern train from Marshfield, due here at 1:30 p. m., arrived at 2:15.

How Did Chauffeur Get Mabel Normand's Pistol, and Why, Police Query

Los Angeles—How and why and when a 25 caliber pistol belonging to Mabel Normand, motion picture actress, found its way into the hands of the chauffeur, who used it to shoot at a crowd of people, including S. Dines, of Denver, here, New Year's night, continued to occupy the attention of police detectives today.

Miss Normand, in whose presence the shooting occurred, was recovering at the Good Samaritan hospital from an operation for chronic appendicitis, performed yesterday, while Dines is in the same hospital recovering from a bullet wound in his lung. Both patients, it was announced early today, were "resting very comfortably."

Two Stories Conflict. Interest in the small bore shooting with which Dines was shot was revived last night when Miss Normand's chauffeur, Horace Greer, told police that Mrs. Dines was the actress' companion, knew that he carried a pistol when he went to Dines' apartment and warned him to be "careful."

When mentioned the pistol to Mrs. Greer, at least three weeks before New Year's, Greer asserted, "She told me she was afraid Miss Normand might use it and I asked her to get New York next week."

Dig in Icy Ruins of Pekin Factory for Fire Victims

Joint Committee to Discuss Request for Changes at Old High School.

To consider what action is to be taken in regard to the 32nd Tank Corps occupying the old high school building on South High street, a meeting of the special committee of members of the city council and board of education is expected to be held soon, and will probably be followed by a special meeting of the board. At that time some definite action on the matter is likely to be taken.

Representatives of the Tank Corps, who appeared before the board about two months ago and asked that the building be remodeled to permit it to keep tanks and other equipment in the basement, a driveway into the basement was asked. The board referred the request to the city council, declining to accept the responsibility itself.

The joint committee of the council and board is composed of Commissioners Jesse Parle and Francis Grant and Councilmen William McCue and Andrew J. Gibbons.

EX-STUDENT RETURNS AS BELOIT HEAD

Beloit—A boy who came to Beloit college nearly 25 years ago to work his way through school returned today amid the cheers of his fellow students, as president of the college.

The Rev. Irving Maurer, Columbus, O., the new president, was welcomed at the railway station by the entire student body of Beloit college and a faculty reception committee. An informal reception was held at the college chapel by the faculty for the new president.

While in college here the Rev. Mr. Maurer worked his way as a typewriter in a local printing office. He graduated in 1904. His immediate predecessor here is Dr. E. D. Eaton, president at interim.

FIND MONROE MAN HANGING IN BASEMENT

Madison—William Balley, 60, Monroe, was found dead hanging from a rope in the basement of a house of his son, Edward H. Balley, here late Thursday. The coroner declared it suicide.

Most of those now in the hospitals were employed in the buildings partly wrecked. Numerous tales of heroism are told regarding several of those seriously injured.

Nearly all the dead were Americans, and at least 25 of them had families, according to the Red Cross. The plant which covers 20 acres, enclosed by a high wall, is a maze of corridors and stairs.

Efforts at public relief work launched by the Peoria Journal were ordered discontinued when it was learned that survivors of the Pekin disaster and their families are to be cared for by the Corn Products company and are not to receive public aid.

LAST OF CRIMINAL CASES ARE DUE TO COME UP, JAN. 21

Janesville's two railroads, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago and Northwestern, are two of the four roads ending the year 1923 without a death of a single passenger. The Santa Fe and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois are the other two. The latter road has operated its trains for 13 years without the death of a single passenger.

The Northwestern has not killed a passenger in two years and 3,312,268 were carried in 1923.

The safety campaigns in which all the employees take an active interest have much to do with the record.

There will be $50 in money prizes and some additional prizes in books and subjects of interest to those who desire more information about birds. To every contestant also there will be presented a beautifully colored bird picture. Now get out the tools and get busy. Boys and girls in Vocational Schools are eligible.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM PROGRESS IN MILK STRIKE SITUATION

10 DISTRIBUTING PLANTS CLOSED, PRODUCERS DECLARE.

PICKETS ON JOB Employed by Dairymen, Is Contention of Distributors in Chicago Area.

Chicago—Milk consumers here still find themselves little more than spectators in the controversy between the producers and distributors, both of whom are maintaining their stands and claiming progress.

Distributors contend that emergency supplies of milk shipped in from Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Ohio points is making up for the supplies which producers in the Chicago district have refused to sell for less than $2.76 a hundred pounds.

Supplies brought in are merely a "stop in the bucket," according to J. T. Fowler, spokesman for the Producers' association, who states that 10 plants of the distributors have been forced to close because of withheld supplies.

Officials of distributing companies charge that pickets are being employed by farmers and dairymen to prevent milk from reaching the shipping points, and that when their demands were not acceded to by milk delivery, the cans were dumped. Distributors are called out in Lake county to prevent any disturbances.

An investigation by the state's attorney, however, into a controversy over prices offered and demanded for milk would be welcomed, producers say.

PLENTY OF MILK AND NO TROUBLE AT CLINTON

"All the milk we need and no trouble," was the statement advanced by J. T. Fowler, spokesman for the Bowman Dairy company, operating the plant at Clinton. The milk situation in Rock county remained unchanged during the last 24 hours.

There was a meeting of producers in the Sharon district, but no action was taken. The producers refused to withhold their milk for the time being at least.

It is declared that the Bowman Dairy company, which has been priced at $2.60 a hundredweight and that the four Wisconsin plants are surplus plants, are priced at $2.76 a hundredweight, and that the Wisconsin plants are necessarily surplus plants, and that it is not always needed for bottling.

As yet the producers in the Janesville district have made no move to restrict their deliveries.

The New Touring Car
$295 F.O.B. DETROIT

A Striking Value—at $295

Considering the improved appearance of the new Ford Touring Car, one would naturally expect a proportionate advance in price.

Larger scale production, however, has made it possible to incorporate in this new type touring car a number of decided improvements without increasing its cost to the purchaser.

A comparison extending over a long period of years will reveal the fact that the present price is actually the lowest at which the five-passenger open car has ever been sold.

The Ford Touring Car stands today, as it always has, a most remarkable value in the motor car field.

ISSUE APPEAL FOR 50 BOWLING TEAMS

Janesville Urged by Tontoon to Help Put City's Entry Over Top.

An urgent appeal to Janesville bowlers to rally to the cause and help put this city's entry in the Wisconsin state bowling tournament over the top with 500 five-man teams was issued Friday afternoon by Charles Tontoon, president of the Janesville Bowling Association.

Up to noon Friday, there were 559 paid entries in the meet from Janesville. Chevrolet Motors Corporation came in Friday with 50 paid quints.

"We still are 50 short on our guaranteed number," said President Tontoon. "We don't want to fall down. We will have all day Saturday before we must get our entries in. The last minute for entries is Sunday night, but by that hour they must be in the hands of Secretary William F. Fenske at Milwaukee."

"If any one has been overlooked, we would appreciate it if they would call on the Grebs & Newman alley and leave their name and we shall have some one call upon them. We must put this entry over for the whole state is watching Janesville. We also are badly in need of names of bowlers. Any one who hasn't sent in his name yet, should do so by giving it in at the alleys. The names have got to be in by Sunday night just the same as the entries. We want every bowler in town and everyone who would like to bowl in order to help us out by getting his name in."

Finish Measures for Cafeteria

All measurements needed for the installation of equipment in the new high school cafeteria have been taken by representatives of the A. L. Keiter company, which was given the contract, according to Supl. F. O. Holt.

The specifications provide that all measurements must be made in the building, and may not be taken from the blue-prints. The ruling is to assure a perfect fit for each piece of equipment.

The representative who was in Janesville Thursday stated that material which would require the longest time to reach their shops has already been ordered, and work will start immediately. The specifications provide that all work on equipment must be done outside the building, and as furnishings are completed they will be moved in, thus preventing undue noise. Work under the specifications must be completed by March 1.

NAME MUGGLETON SUCCESSOR SOON

Jensen Wants Man With
"Horse-Sense" for School Board Post.

Appointment of a successor to Charles A. Muggleton as a member of the school board from the Third ward is expected to be made by the city council at its next regular meeting, Jan. 14. Several men have been suggested for the appointment and sentiment appears to be crystallizing in favor of Rex N. Jacobs, local salesman, who has the endorsement of the old Janesville Machine company.

Mr. Jacobs has indicated that he does not desire the office but it is understood efforts will be made to persuade him to take it, as an important public duty. His name was mentioned by several when the matter was brought up at Thursday night's council meeting and the names of A. R. Glancy and W. V. Whislock were also suggested.

"It is an important one," declared President J. K. Jensen. "We want a man appointed who has good horse-sense, who has the right opinion and who has the backbone to stand up for them."

Calling attention to the fact that the board has let the contract for a new school building, President Jensen said he is informed now that there is talk of adding refrigerating equipment and erecting two new junior high schools, one on each side of the river.

While the city attorney has ruled that the appointment of Mr. Muggleton's successor is up to the city manager, to be confirmed by the council, Mr. Jensen holds that it is purely a matter for the council to decide, and that the school board, and that the manager is not elected by the people.

Roads in County Reported Better

Roads have improved considerably throughout the county, according to reports of rural mail carriers. Even on the day following the heavy snow storm, only two carriers were unable to make their complete routes. The carrier on Route 9 broke his way through on Thursday for the first time since the storm. Route 7 was still blocked yesterday, but the carrier expected to be able to make his route on Monday. The routes are both northwest of this city, and a short stretch of road north of Leyden has been found the worst.

Pap cursed him. Then, "Dolly, have you changed your mind yet?" Silence on her part while her eyes stared at him. He put the question in a different way. "Will you marry Shale?" She shook her head slightly. "If you won't promise I'm going to what you tell me, said he. She knew he would, so she shook her head a second time. "Gag her again!" cried Pap savagely.

It was done, and Pap began to lay on the whip with all his might. "Not in the place!" corrected Pap angrily. "You cut her too deep, and she won't heal up in two weeks. Close your trap!" snarled Pap. "I know my business." "She's bleeding like a stuck pig now," said Sim. "You don't want to kill the girl?" "I'll kill her if I want to," Pap grunted through clenched teeth. "I'll teach her to chuck me! I'll learn her when I tell her to do a thing she's not to do!"

At every fourth word the lash laid bare the raw flesh. At the close of Pap's second hour, Dolly's back from shoulders to waist was a gridiron of bleeding welts. The blood was running down her legs. But Dolly did not know it. For her mind was elsewhere, and she was thinking of the future. "She's fainted this time all right," declared Hank.

Hank's father paid no attention. He continued to thrash Dolly's unconscious body till the door burst open and a fat whirlwind blew in and fastened two hands on his right arm.

"Pap! Pap!" screamed the anguished man. "Beat me if you kotta beat somebody! Beat me! But leave Dolly alone! Oh, leave her alone! Don't hit her again! Don't! Oh, you've killed her! You've killed her! I know it!"

"She ain't hurt! She's only shamming! Leggo I tell you! Go fix her up, if you want to," the other loomed. Sim's lips trembled. Don't look there like a thumbsuckin' bump on a log!"

Derr, squatting on his heels, stared down at the body of his friend, Sil Thompson. The corner and his jury had not yet arrived. Nat Main and Hank Green, the sheriff's deputies, were keeping Derr company. Derr's face was inscrutable. It might have been cut out of hard rock. But the eyes were as bright and alert as those of a hawk.

When Derr spoke, his voice was monotonous and gentle, almost soft. "This just the way he was found, Nat?"

"Except for the rocks we took off him," replied the deputy.

"He ain't been dead as long as the sheriff said," declared Derr. "I don't think he has myself," spoke up Hank Green. "Two days at the outside. Top, he didn't make allowance for the weather."

Derr fingered the broken watch chain. It was an old-fashioned watch chain with a hook instead of the more usual buttonhole bar. It was obvious that the watch chain had snapped the worn links.

Nate leaned forward to look over his shoulder. Derr said to the deputy, "The links are pretty worn. This, it wouldn't take much of a yank to bust 'em."

"The hold-up must have been in a hurry," Nate offered as his opinion.

"Whoever dragged him in here had time enough to cover him up with rocks," said Derr, glancing at the two-foot heap of stones beside the body. "If he didn't have to hustle he didn't have to break the chain. He'd have unhooked it."

"It is busted. How come?" "I'll never tell you. Second sight is something I don't own to."

"Think of what had been a strong link, and you'll go a long way toward dumping the murderer. In a deal like this, the murderer's rapscallions you want to look into most. The things that don't fit, see?"

"What do you think?" "He wasn't robbed. That's a cinch."

"But his money and watch are gone." "Didn't I tell you that the killer had plenty of time to do enough, anyway. There's a good cune of gold in this hook and these few links. If Sil had been robbed, the hook and links would be missing too."

Nate subsided. Such reasoning was beyond his powers. He watched Derr and the deputy, the sheriff's deputy and underlings. On the white skin were long, discolored abrasions.

"See those rope marks?" pointed out Derr. "It was packed to the edge of the rocks on a horse. Why didn't you say so before, Nate?"

"I never saw the rope marks before," defended Nate. "Neither did Top, or any of us. We saw he was cased and let it go at that. Me, I ain't unreasonin' any dead folk. I can help it. Where you goin'?"

"See if I can track the pack."

The young woman is subject to pain and irregularities, the mother to the tortures of displacements with consequent pains, aches and nervousness—the middle aged woman to the uncomfortable conditions caused by this critical age. The one remedy to control these conditions and restore the system to a normal healthy condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for fifty years has been restoring sick and ailing women to health and happiness.—Advertisement.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

THE CITY industrial basketball league seems ready to experience an unusually successful season in 1924. From the early games, there appears to be a better matched aggregation of squads than in the past. There is a wonderful spirit of sportsmanship being manifest all around. There is a fine showing of the physical, mental and social benefits that may be derived. The outstanding feature is that there are many more of the older men playing the game. There are quite a few fellows who are better than 30 years of age. The teams on the whole are more representative of the general population than in any of the previous seasons. The attendance, also, seems to be on the increase. It is a pleasure to see in these contests something of the real spirit of sports.

IT WILL be hard for many to understand why the Amateur Athletic union, the national sports committee will refuse to let Mrs. Mallory and some of our other amateur sports stars represent this nation in the Olympic games at Paris next summer. Forgetting all the talk of "jingo" titleholders—people who are better known to the world when the United States is at peace than when it is at war—because of greater attractions here—if these folks have become American citizens, they should be allowed to represent the U. S. Citizenship, naturalized or native, gives the holder the privilege of sharing status. Whether the person is a citizen—that is the basis for discrimination.

BILLY MISKE has gone. The home-bought fighter, who ranked among the second strata of the "Big Boy" division, went down under a hammer delivered by Ole John. The fight was a hard one, but it was not a patriotic. It is a splendid example of devotion to family ties. Though death stared him in the face, Miske tried valiantly to stay off the Grim Reaper with his fight. He failed in a financial way in fighting. Only natural that he should turn to the latter despite a weakened physique.

Northwestern curling meet to open Friday at Eveleth, Minn.

Football's increasing attraction causes major baseball leagues to close 1924 season week earlier than usual.

Johnny Weissmuller, Chicago, sets world's 300-yard free style swim record in 3:12 2-3, old record of 3:15 1-2 being held by Norman Ross.

BASKETBALL DRIBBLES

FRANKLIN beats Marquette, 19-18, in overtime game. Chicago beats Yale, 21-21, taking early lead and holding it throughout. Battery of six strong western conference basketball teams swing into action Saturday night in three contests that officially open 1924 Big Ten season. Remaining four teams enter battle for conference title within next week—Saturday. Illinois will be pitted against Minnesota at Minneapolis. Wisconsin will battle Indiana at Bloomington and Chicago will play Purdue at La Fayette. Ohio, Northwestern, Iowa, and Michigan make later starts. Pre-season contests indicate Illinois, Wisconsin and Chicago will emerge victors from their first game. These teams, together with Iowa and Michigan, placed among leading contenders for the possession of five league basketball titles in conference points to season full of interest for spectators who recently have shown same interest in college basketball. Illinois has entire last year's team on floor, while Chicago is represented by star players. Michigan somewhat unknown, although always counted on to figure strongly.

Plans for indoor football league started at Chicago.

Ninety-four foreign race horses, valued at $500,000, to be shipped Saturday for American purchasers.

U. S. Lawn Tennis association moves to bar net stars from writing newspaper and motion picture contracts until they are amateur.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS

Fight between Johnny Dundee, Louisville, and Billy Burke, Chicago, scheduled for Saturday night at Madison, Wis., has been postponed. Dundee, who is a featherweight champion, asked by Eddie Mead, manager of Lynch—Young, Milwaukee, school boy lightweight of Mead, to fight Dundee at Fort Atkinson, Wis., on Saturday night. Harry Kipke, Michigan football and basketball star, will join coaching staff of Miami university at Oxford, O., next year.

THE HOT STOVE LEAGUE

Carl May, former Yankee pitcher, awarded to Cleveland, by Commissioner Landis, sent out contracts and now await first bid. Louisville denies Yankees will get outfielder Conner and pitcher Dean. Mike Ruth, Yankees, will play in meeting being held in January Union to form new southern Wisconsin professional baseball league. Landis, secretary of American League, says that he will not be traded to Vernon.

Second six day bike race of season to start at Chicago, Saturday.

Syracuse crew will not enter Olympic trials because schedule is completed.

The game of billiards was first introduced into Europe by the Knights Templar on their return from the first crusade, in the early part of the twelfth century.

Whitewater and Brodhead Get Cage Meets Again

Copyright 1920, by Geo. McManus

FIVE MAN BOARD NOW IN EFFECT; BARNES IS HEAD

Whitewater normal school and Brodhead high school have been awarded district high school basketball tournaments again, according to a bulletin of the Wisconsin interscholastic athletic association. Brodhead has accepted. It was stated over the telephone Friday morning by Carl T. Phares, superintendent. This is the third time was offered to Janesville high school, but which was declined because of lack of sufficient seating arrangements and in order to conduct with the Whitewater tourney.

Whitewater normal has also accepted. It was stated Friday by Frank S. Iyer, president. The bulletin also announces completion of the reorganization of the board of control of the W. I. A., which now has five members. It is composed of A. J. Barnes, Madison, a member of the old board, holds over and has been appointed chairman. P. P. Neumann, Marquette, also holds over and is secretary. The new members are: Robert Moser, Cumberland high, to serve until Dec. 31, 1924; P. Towell, Plattville high, to serve until Dec. 31, 1925; A. J. Chamberlain, Milwaukee Riverside, to serve until Dec. 31, 1926. Mr. Chamberlain has served on the board in the past.

The district tournaments will be held on March 12, 13 and 14. The state meet will be held at the University of Wisconsin, March 27, 28 and 29.

Other places where districts are to be held are: River Falls, Matfield, Oshkosh and La Crosse normals; Marquette and Lawrence colleges; and Watertown, Ashland, Wisconsin Rapids and Rice Lake high schools.

Ban Chute normal has been offered to be held at the school, but it still under consideration.

Due to the reorganization of the state into five general districts, it is not known yet from what schools the competing teams shall be drawn. The eight teams that will take part in each week will be announced about a week before the tourneys.

New Way of Phoning

The Brodhead meet will be held in the opera house, the same place as last year, when crowds were turned away.

Jack Edgerton conducting a meet this year will defray all local expenses. From the gross receipts, the tournament school will pay the four teams that remain in the meet three days at the rate of $2 a man per day and the four teams that stay two days at the same rate. If there is any money remaining, traveling expenses will be paid. The net is then divided 50-50 with the W. I. A. Each competing team will be allowed eight men.

Valley High Loop Expects Big Year with Cage Squads

Milton — The Rock River Valley High School Athletic league, sponsored by Milton College, is due for a successful season in basketball this winter. All members, with the exception of Edgerton, will be represented by five schools. Two basketball teams will be played among the members of the organization.

Three of the schools are expecting good teams. Jefferson has a much better team than last year. It is expected that the team will be a strong contender for a championship.

A strong team is being built around their captain and only veteran, Hal Stoughton. At Milton Union a good season is expected notwithstanding the loss of their last year's veteran.

Stoughton has lost four of their regular team last year early season indications point to a successful year.

ASKS CLEAR RAIL LEGISLATION VIEWS

House Committee Chairman Wants to Know How Far to Go.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington, D. C., — Chairman Winslow of the house committee of interstate commerce asked President Coolidge Thursday to "clarify" his views on possible legislation affecting the railroads and transportation generally.

Mr. Coolidge in his message set forth some definite ideas on the railroad problem, but Mr. Winslow wanted to make sure just how far the president is willing to go in seeing his views carried out in Capitol Hill.

Although taxation is undoubtedly the paramount issue before congress today, there is considerable pressure from the agricultural and business interests of the country on the subject of railroad legislation. It is all in the demand of the farmer for cheaper freight rates. The farm bloc owes its popularity in the west to the boast that it champions the interests of the farmer. The congressional campaign of 1922 saw many a member lose his seat in congress because of former disaffection with his attitude on the transportation law known as the Esch-Cummings act.

Reducing Freight Rates
For several years there has been a steady demand upon the railroads that they reduce their freight rates. Some reductions have been voluntarily made. Others have been refused, even though the president of the United States in a personal appeal to various railroad executives sought the reduction.

What power, then, can be exerted over the railroads to secure lower freight rates? The farmer and his representatives in congress have seized upon a precious clause in the transportation act which they insist amounts to a guarantee of profits to the railroads and prevents the interstate commission from ordering lower freight rates. Mr. Coolidge pleased the railroad interests by saying in his latest address to congress that "it had been erroneously assumed that the act (Esch-Cummings law) undertakes to guarantee railroad earnings." The president argued that the law merely requires that "rates should be just and reasonable."

What Are Just Rates?
But what are just and reasonable rates? Those that yield a fair return on the money invested. Here, however, the dispute only begins, for the opponents of the present law insist that a fair return could be made with a lower freight rate on various commodities and that the facts and figures furnished by the railroads are not conclusive.

And so the argument goes. It is somewhat similar to the soldier bonus controversy. One side insists upon one set of figures and the other offers another group of figures. The outstanding fact is that the farmer looks upon his power in congress as a club over the head of the railroads. So long as the club is dangled from above the railroads will be kept in a state of anxiety. So far as the railroads are concerned they wouldn't be disappointed if congress never found time to tackle the railroad problem at all at this session.

Several Months Away
Judging by the speed congress is making and the capacity for debate and prolonged fighting on the tax question, it would not be surprising if the railroad problem was not taken up for several months. If congress does not take positive action there will be a good deal heard in the presidential and congressional campaigns about amendments to the transportation law. The so-called progressives consider it a vital plank in their platform and the question affords plenty of opportunity for stump speaking. Mr. Winslow's call at the White House Thursday was prompted by a desire for guidance.

The president indicated in his message that he would prefer to let well enough alone and wait for a decision of the supreme court of the United States on the constitutionality of certain features of the present law before trying to amend the act. Whether congress will agree with him is doubtful. Of far more importance is the question of Mr. Coolidge's attitude should the farm bloc take the initiative, amend the act and present Mr. Coolidge with a bill that contradicts the views he expressed in his message.

The best information at the moment is that Mr. Coolidge will cross the bridge when he comes to it and that he has not assumed a position of direct hostility to railroad legislation.

MORE SOVIET PROPAGANDA IS REVEALED

Washington—Further evidence of communist propaganda in the United States in the form of a translation of a communication by G. Zinoviev and addressed "to American communists," was published today as part of Secretary Hughes' defense of the administration's policy in refusing to deal with soviet Russia under present conditions. The communication which appeared in the Moscow Pravda, Dec. 14, 1922, purported to have been "written at the request of the American communists" and hailed the advent of "the daily communist newspaper (in English) 'Daily Worker,' which will appear on Jan. 1, 1923, in New York, American labor movement but also for the whole communist international."

TOO MANY MEN, NOT ENOUGH WOMEN AS IMMIGRANTS, PLAINT

Washington—The chief trouble with the immigration policy of the United States, Secretary of Labor Davis was informed today in a letter from Edward D. Williams, a Poway, Cal., citizen, is that it is letting too many men into the country, and not enough women.

The result is that women, particularly in the west, "are having too many men to play off one against the other," the letter asserted, adding that the preponderance of males was "working a great hardship upon us men, especially when we look around for a good woman to marry or employ."

"I respectfully propose that our immigration in the future be rationed in the proportion of four men being admitted, to three men," he suggested.
